50th Anniversary -- Oratory Corner

450 years ago, on July 15, 1575, Pope Gregory XIII solemnly established a new congregation of priests and brothers in the Catholic Church. The Pope knew St Philip well and had "heard much of the institute of our Congregation from Tarugi and the others" (Gallonio, Life of St Philip Neri, 107). The Pope spoke to the pastor of Santa Maria in Vallicella. The pastor agreed to resign the Church to the new congregation, now called The Oratory. St Philip assigned Fr Francesco Maria Tarugi as the new pastor.

Francesco Maria Tarugi was the close relative of two popes. He had been given important diplomatic positions by various popes. But instead of seeking a powerful career, he gave himself into the hands of St Philip Neri. He became one of the greatest preachers of his day. He was eventually made a Cardinal after St Philip died. He also became the Archbishop of Avignon and Sienna.

In the year 1975, the 400th anniversary of the founding of the Oratory, a new Pope established the Oratory in Canada. The first house was in Montreal, 1311 Pine Ave. A small group is organizing a little pilgrimage to Montreal and Quebec City (August 1-5). We will be visiting a few places connected to the foundation of the Oratory in Canada. But we will also visit places connected to the early roots of the Church in Canada as a whole. These early roots will be seen as foundational not only for the Church in Canada, but for the Church in the new world.
