BLESSED JUVENAL ANCINA

Blessed Juvenal is the only one of our Oratorian Blesseds to have known St. Philip personally. A physician, he was moved to a deeper practice of his Faith one day when hearing the Dies Irae at a funeral. He and his brother Giovanni Matteo went to Rome seeking a vocation and thought of joining the Carthusians. On a second trip to Rome Juvenal discovered the Oratory, and St. Philip persuaded him to join, where he became one of the most popular preachers, and also composed music which was used at the Oratory exercises. In 1586 he was sent to the new Oratory at Naples, where his fame as a good preacher and holy priest continued to grow. When there was talk that he would be made a bishop he went into hiding for several months, but after St. Philip's death he was unable to avoid the desires of the Holy Father and in 1602 was made Bishop of Saluzzo in Piedmont. St. Francis de Sales was a close friend and gave this testimony at the Process for Juvenal's beatification.

[Among all the distinguished and saintly men I met in Rome, and far beyond all these], the virtues of this great prelate shone conspicuous. I marvelled much to see, that to so great a learning he united so lowly an opinion of himself, to so much gravity of countenance and speech so pleasing and cheerful a demeanor, and to so lofty a mind so singular a sweetness and affability of manner. With him it was not as with the greater part of men, that high station and great acquirements brought with them pride and self-complacency; he did not exhibit his charity with learning, but rather his learning with charity. In fine, he cherished an ardent love of God and a tender charity for his neighbour, and in return he was truly dear to both God and man. We call that love sincere in which we cannot trace a single thought of self, and this exalted feeling is rarely found but in those who have well nigh reached the height of perfection.

Juvenal's body rests in Saluzzo Cathedral, under an altar dedicated to him. He was beatified by Pope Leo XIII on 9th February, 1890. There will be a Sung English Mass at 5:30pm at Holy Family Church on Mon, Aug 31.
